Let the magic begin!

There once was a wizard who slept all day and night.
Every dream he dreamt was colourful and bright.

All of his dreams were as good as it gets,
like fishing for stars or cuddling his pets.

To-Dream List

- ☒ Fish for stars
- ☒ Cuddle my pets
- ☐ Slide down a rainbow
- ☐ Play with my friends
- ☐ Ride a unicorn
- ☐ Fly with The Dream Fairy

Knock, knock, knock! The Sleepy Wizard awoke.
“Who is that knocking on my nose?” Then, someone spoke...

“It is I, your Dream Fairy friend.
I have some news which will make your hair stand on end!”

“What is it, Dream Fairy?” The Sleepy Wizard replied.
“Tell me at once, you seem to be tongue-tied!”

"I was tending to the flowers that grow by the stream..."

“...when suddenly I heard a terrible scream!

"I flew by the window, where I heard the cries, and saw two little children with tears in their eyes.

"I flew into their room without making a peep, and with a sprinkle of my dust, helped them fall back to sleep.

“But Sleepy Wizard, I fear my magic won’t last,
and their nightmares may return, as they did in the past.”

“What worrying news!” The Sleepy Wizard proclaimed.
“We must work together so the children sleep soundly again.”

“What children forget is they need magic in their dreams.
Without a little wizardry, they'll come apart at the seams.

"If you want to sleep the whole night through,
you'll need a pillow with a door to catch sweet dreams for you.

"They're called Magic Door Pillows and are created with a magic spell, nothing less.
They attract the greatest dreams and thoughts of happiness.

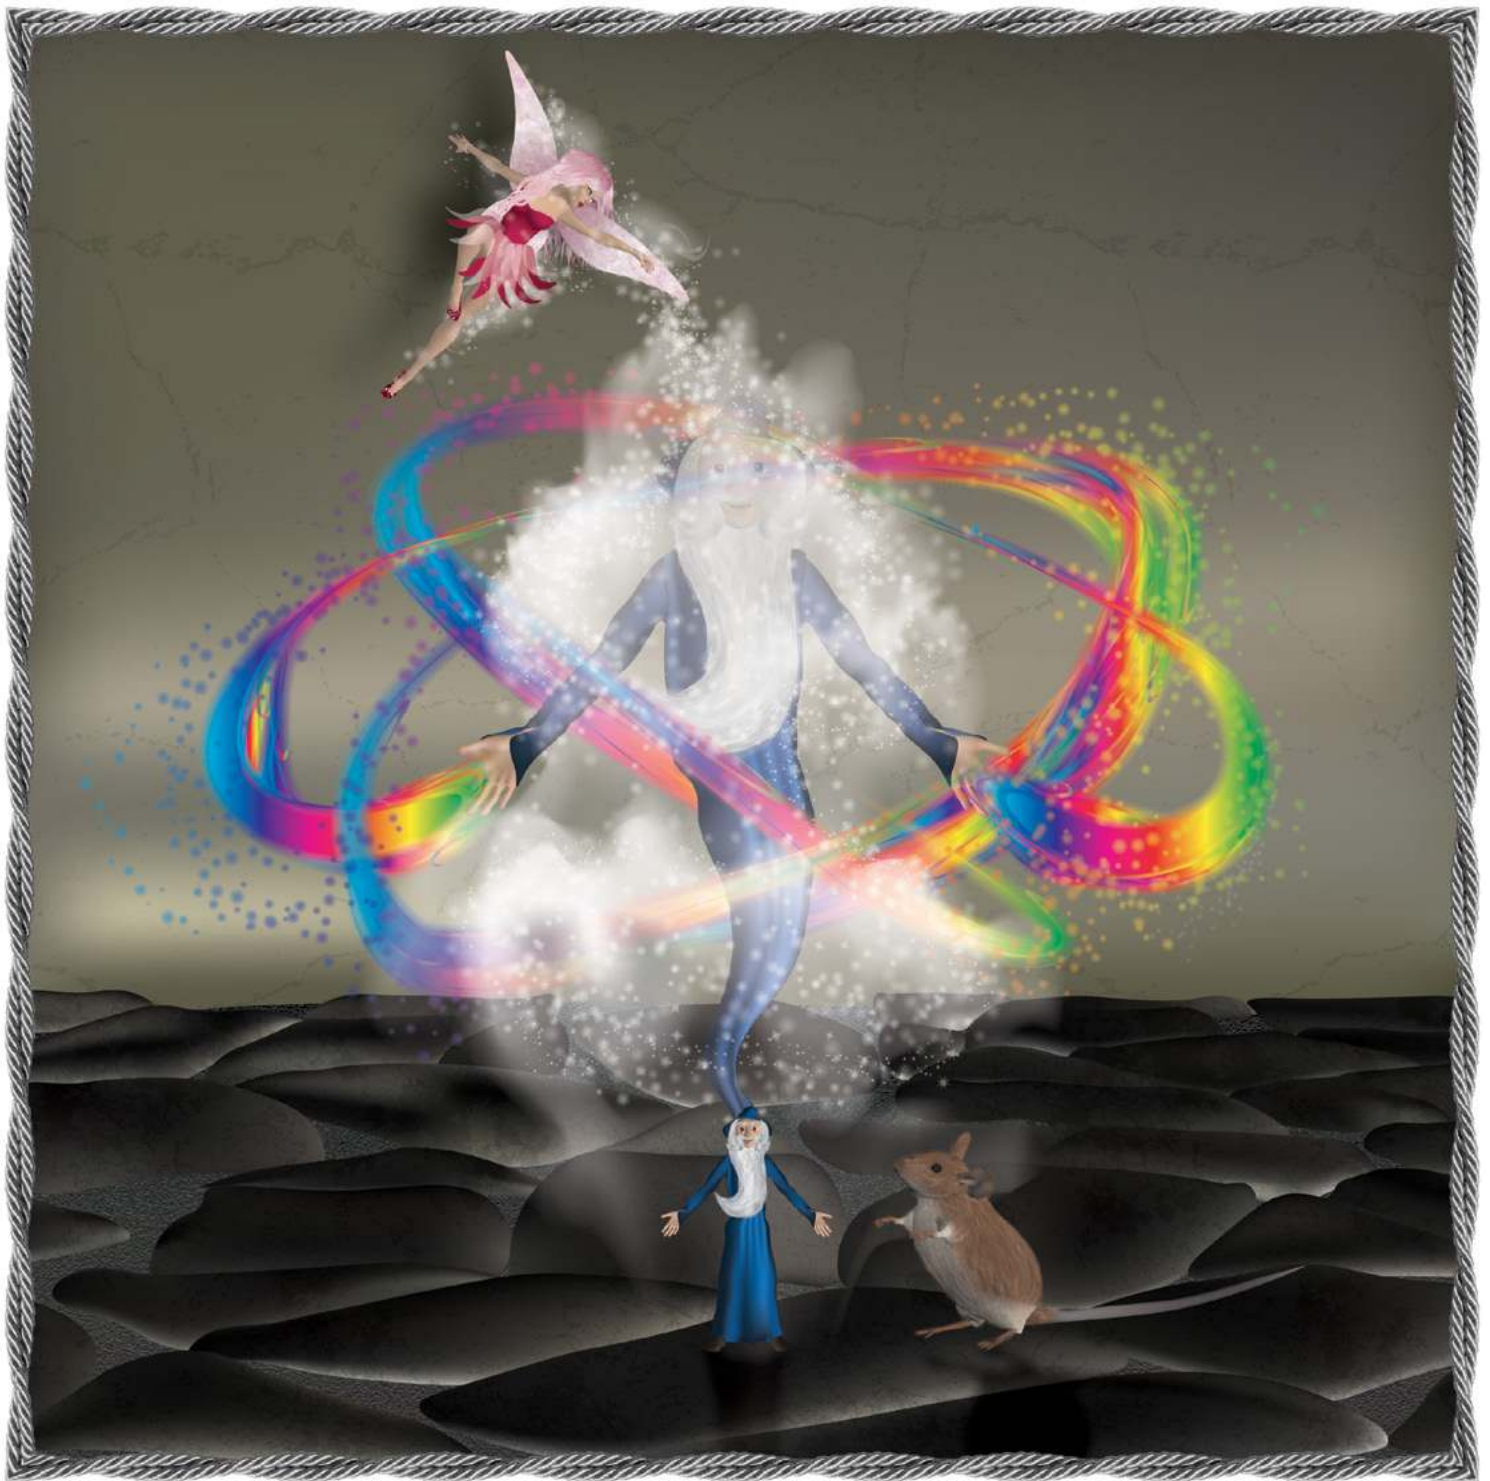

“The spell must be written on the inside of the door, to hold the best dreams this land has in store.

“We must perform a spell that’s versed just right, and to make sure it works, we will sleep inside their Magic Door Pillows throughout the night.

"For the magic to start, the children must give us a name.
Once this is done, they shall sleep soundly again."

"But, Sleepy Wizard, you're as tall as a tree.
You'll never fit inside a Magic Door Pillow. You must wake up and see!"

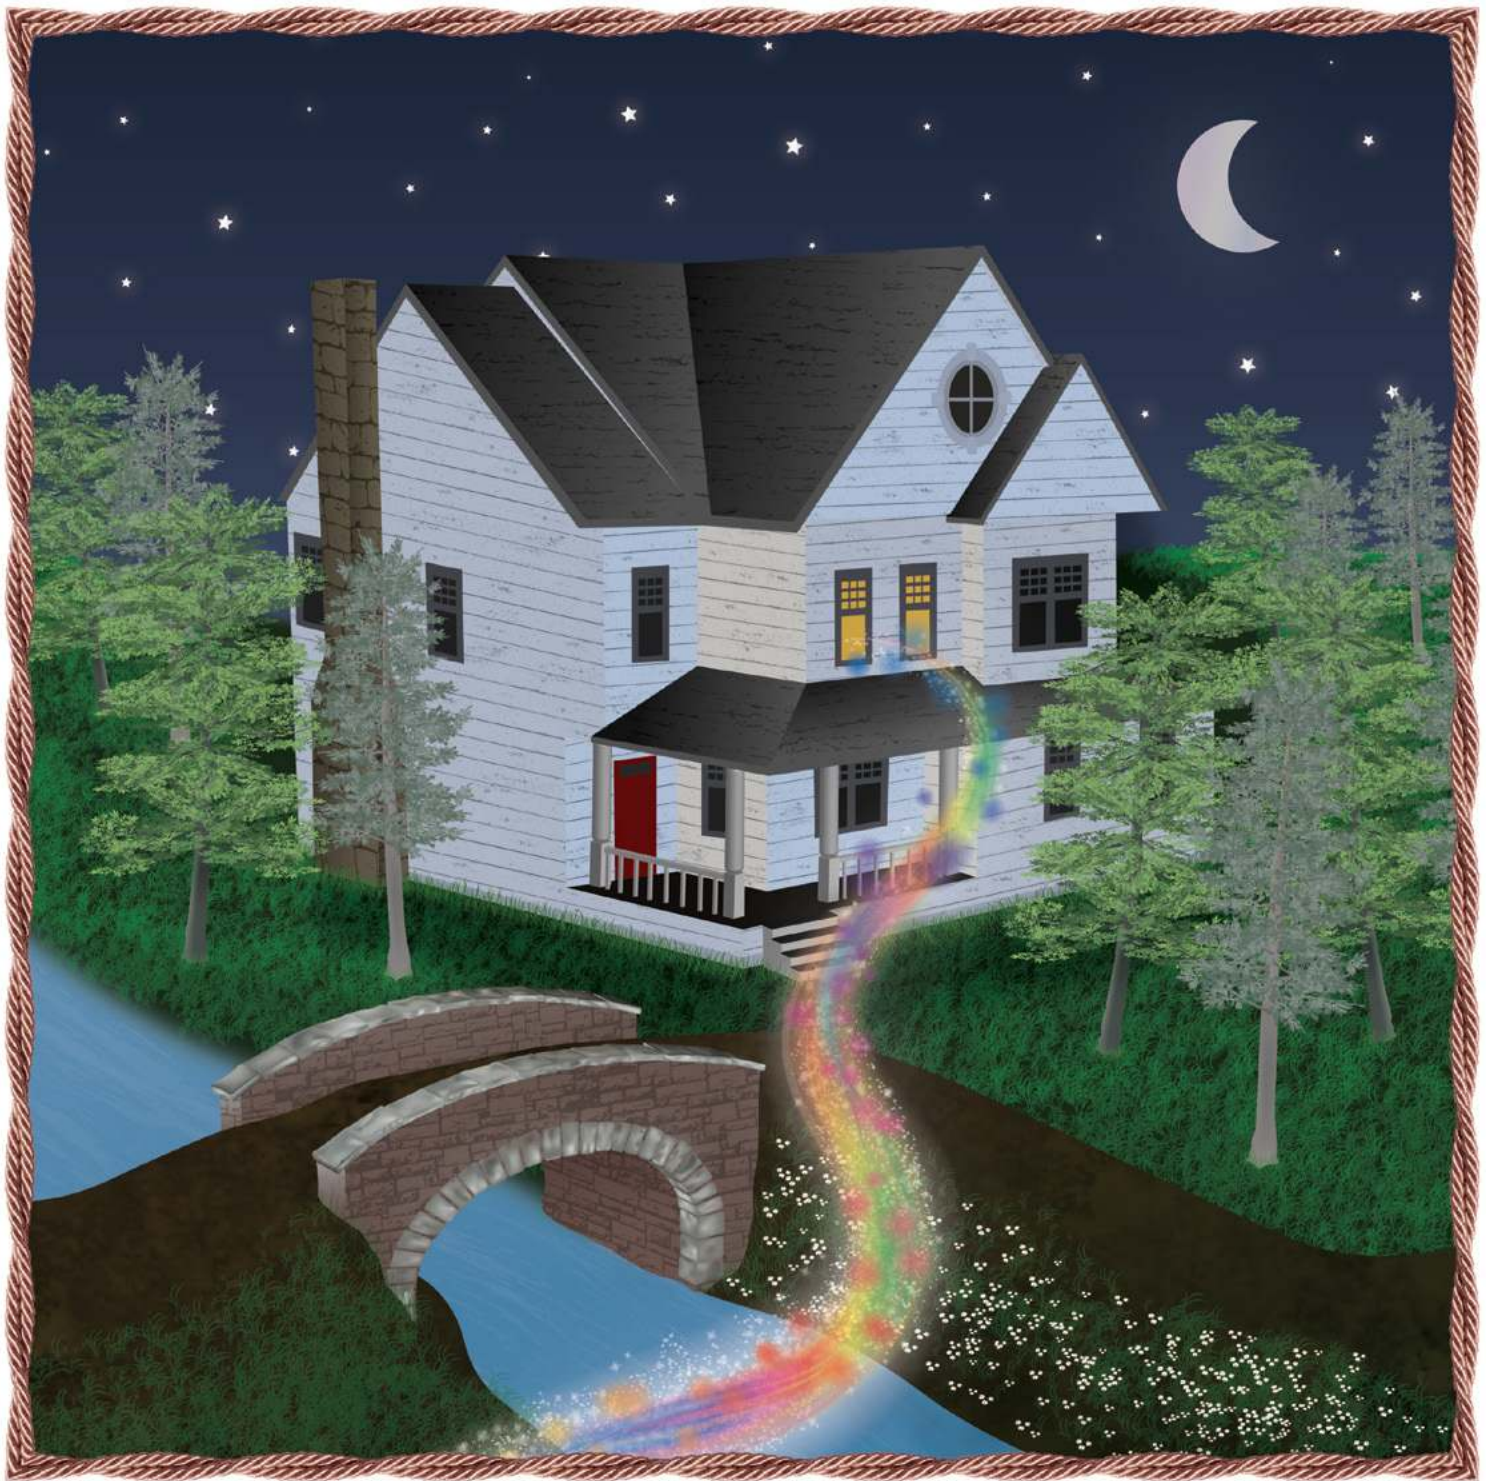

The Sleepy Wizard laughed.

"I have a spell to use that will shrink me to the size of a mouse.
Your fairy dust I'll need and a generous douse."

PUFF! And just like that, The Sleepy Wizard was as small as a mouse.

The Dream Fairy carried him flying, out from his magical house.

They flew by the flowers that grow by the stream and in through the window, where The Dream Fairy had heard the scream.

"The children are still with their parents getting ready for bed, which will give me time to do the magic," The Sleepy Wizard said.

"TWINKLE Minkle Hickory Spice

"Magic Door Pillows I command you to appear, to catch sweet dreams for these children tonight!"

With a wave of his wand and the spell that he said, a Magic Door Pillow appeared on each of their beds.

“Dream Fairy, you sleep inside the pink pillow, I’ll take the blue.
But we must be quick. I can hear the children coming, can you?”

As the children came in, their eyes grew wide.
There were Magic Door Pillows on their beds. Their excitement they couldn't hide.

But, where could they have come from? They were not here before.
You couldn't help but feel the magic coming from inside these little doors.

“Look, there’s a letter in the mailbox!”
the little girl said.

Her brother cried out,
“I have one too! Let’s read what it says.”

That night, the children both slept as soundly as can be.
Neither woke at all. From their nightmares, they were free.

They had requested special dreams, and guess what, they came true!
The little boy fished for stars, and his big sister flew.

How to continue the magic

The magic is in the letters: the sending and receiving between your children and their magic friends. Each night before bed, as a part of your children's bedtime routines, they can write or draw a picture of what they would like to dream about, and mail it in the pillow's magic mailbox. Your children can read the spell on the inside of the pillow's door, then tuck their wizard or fairy into the pillow to go to sleep at the same time as they do.

Sleepy Wizards and Dream Fairies make the best pen pals. They love to write! Your children will be amazed when they find letters waiting for them in their pillow's mailbox, such as:

- Reply letters asking if they enjoyed the dream that they requested the night before.
- Letters with dream suggestions for that night.
- Letters and photos of what they got up to during the day, when no one was home.

Your children may find their wizards or fairies around the house, getting up to all kinds of activities. If your children's wizards or fairies have been up to something cheeky or exciting, and you would like to share it with the Magic Door Pillows community, we would love to hear from you!

A little magic and imagination from Mum or Dad is required for the reply letters and cheeky activities.
